For information of the Bureau, [redacted] familiar with VVAW activities at St. Louis, states that no information has been received concerning local VVAW members obtaining records from the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC), St. Louis, Mo.

Review of organizational structure of the NPRC indicates 600 to 800 employees have access to Army records which cover the time period during which the Vietnam Conflict began to present. Individuals in a reserve status have their records kept elsewhere. In addition to the above individuals are employees of other Government agencies, as the FBI, who have access to all files at the center. Also, in addition to these people, are individuals throughout the Government who may obtain military records on request. [Signature]

The NPRC also will forward identifying data of past service personnel to anyone enclosing a $1.50 fee.

In view of the fact that thousands of Government employees throughout the United States could obtain records from the NPRC, St. Louis is not opening a separate file re this matter. If more specific information is received concerning instant matter, St. Louis will immediately institute investigation.

The subject was seen by [REDACTED] at a VVAW organizational meeting in 1971 and [REDACTED] has noted [REDACTED] in the company of one or two other individuals who are known to have manifested interest in the VVAW.

At a 4th of July parade in July, 1972, a rather large debate took place by members of the VVAW Chapter at the University of Illinois regarding whether or not they should march in the parade with two factions developing at that time, one backing an individual known as [REDACTED] and another backing an individual known as [REDACTED]. Springfield is going to discontinue active investigation of this case; however, subject's activities will continue become a threat to national security at any point in the future, active investigation will be reinstituted.

Dan Dryz, president of the OU VVAW, commented in August, 1972, that the VVAW had not been very active during the summer months of 1972 since most VVAW members were away from the University of Oklahoma and Norman, Oklahoma, during the summer. Dryz said this was also due to the decrease of enthusiasm in VVAW activities among VVAW members.

Oryz further commented that activities of the OU VVAW during the Fall Semester at OU would include group and individual actions directed toward the November national elections.

SEDITION

INTERNAL SECURITY - REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES

On November 5, 1972, Source One, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on November 5, 1972, Jane Fonda appeared at the Ventura College Theater, Ventura College, Ventura, California, under the sponsorship of the Unitarian Church of Ventura, 4949 Foothill Road, Ventura, California. Source advised that Fonda's appearance at Ventura College Theater was previously publicly announced as being sponsored by the Indochina Peace Campaign; however, when Fonda actually appeared at the Ventura College Theater it was stated that her appearance was being sponsored by the Unitarian Church.

Jane Fonda, a motion picture actress, has been publicly identified as militantly opposed to the war in Vietnam.

During August 1972, the Indochina Peace Campaign (IPC) was formed to make the upcoming national election a referendum on the war activities in Indochina and to create understanding and sympathy for the people of Vietnam and their right of self determination. Headquartered in New York City, the group has plans to conduct speeches, film showing, and discussion groups in California, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York, these states being viewed by the IPC as the most influential in determining the selection of the next President.

JANE FONDA;
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

Source One advised Fonda spoke from 11:05 a.m. to 11:55 a.m. to an audience of approximately 400 individuals, ranging in age from 35 years to 50 years. All were of the Caucasian race with the exception of four individuals who were of the Black race. Source One reported FONDA'S speech as follows:

Fonda told the audience of her recent visit to Hanoi, North Vietnam, where she witnessed United States aircraft straffing the city of Hanoi in areas which were obviously not of a military nature. Fonda stated she visited the dikes which had been bombed by the United States military forces and she severely criticized the United States for wanton murder of civilians and claimed that President Richard M. Nixon had no intentions of bringing about the end to the war in Vietnam. She added that to elect President Nixon for another four year term as President of the United States would mean another four years of United States being involved in a war.

Fonda urged those present to vote for Senator George Mc Govern who she described as a man who wants to bring peace to the United States. Fonda urged those present to write letters to the "White House" and to the United Nations setting forth their extreme dissatisfaction with the United States being involved in the war in Vietnam.

Fonda also related her meeting with Prisoners of War (POW) during her visit to North Vietnam. Fonda advised that from talking to these POWs she has learned they are not in accordance with United States policy in being at war with North Vietnam. Fonda expressed sorrow for these POWs and claimed that President Nixon is doing nothing to bring them home.

Fonda also mentioned that a delegation, among whom was Thomas Hayden, was presently in North Vietnam endeavoring to obtain release of POWs from North Vietnam. Fonda emphasized the fact that Thomas Hayden was doing more to obtain the release of the POWs than what President Nixon or any member of the present administration were doing.

JANE FONDA;
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

Source One advised Fonda was well accepted by the audience and received a standing ovation. Following her speech folk songs were sung to the music of guitars. Source said that just prior to termination of this program those present were invited to the Unitarian Church to partake in refreshments.

Thomas Emmett Hayden, one of the original organizers of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), was the principal author of the Port Huron Statement, which formed the ideological structure of the SDS. Hayden was one of five convicted in February of 1970 in the Chicago conspiracy trial of crossing a state line with intent to incite riots during the August 1968, Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Hayden is currently free on bail and awaiting appeal, and periodically makes speeches criticizing the Chicago conspiracy trials.

SDS was founded during June 1962 at Port Huron, Michigan, and in the 1960s functioned as the leading New Left campus based student organization in the United States. From an initial posture of "participatory democracy," SDS moved to a radical-revolutionary position, with debate centering on how best to create a revolutionary youth movement. Internal factionalism produced a split during the SDS National Convention in June 1969 which resulted in the following three factions: Weatherman; Worker Student Alliance (WSA); and Revolutionary Youth Movement (RYM). The Weatherman and RYM are no longer affiliated with SDS. The WSA continues to use the name SDS and maintains its national headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

JANE FONDA;
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

Weatherman, formerly a faction of SDS, controlled the SDS National Office from June 1969 until its closing in February 1970. Weatherman then entered an underground status and adopted a tactic of "strategic sabotage" with police and military installations designated as primary targets.

WSA, a faction of SDS, was expelled from SDS in June 1969 by the then dominant Weatherman faction but continued to use the name SDS and opened an office in Boston, Massachusetts. WSA aligned ideologically with the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) and in February 1971 moved to Chicago, Illinois, where it opened the SDS National Office at 1225 South Wabash. Its official publication, "New Left Notes," is published in Chicago.

The RYM, a pro-communist revolutionary youth organization, was organized in 1969, first as a faction within the SDS, then as a separate group with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. RYM was unsuccessful in attracting support and by mid-1970 it was practically defunct.

The PLP was founded in 1962 by individuals expelled from the Communist Party, USA, for following the Chinese communist line. Its objective is the establishment of a militant working-class movement based on Marxist-Leninism and MAO Tse-tung thought.

On November 5, 1972, Source Two, who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Jane Fonda, under the sponsorship of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW), spoke at the University of California at Irvine, Irvine, California, between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. on November 5, 1972. Fonda spoke to an audience of approximately 200 individuals, who for the most part appeared to be students.

JANE FONDA;
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

The VVAW is an ad hoc organization of veterans opposed to the war in Vietnam. VVAW is an anti-war organization organized in 1967 and headquartered in New York City. Its published objective is "to demand an immediate cessation of fighting and the withdrawal of all American troops from Indochina."

Source Two advised that Fonda's speech related her experiences during her recent trip to North Vietnam. Fonda told the audience of her meeting POWs in North Vietnam. She indicated that although the POWs were being well treated by the North Vietnam Government, there was an extreme desire in them to be home at Christmas time. Fonda said this will never come to pass because President Nixon is doing nothing to effect the release of the POWs. Source Two continued by saying:

Fonda's speech was replete with statements that President Nixon was not interested in bringing about peace with North Vietnam and she added that regardless of what appears in the daily newspaper, it is President Nixon's desire to continue the war in Vietnam due to the best interests of big industry.

Fonda made numerous comments to the effect that if President Nixon was elected to another four year term the United States would most certainly be involved in another four years of war.

Fonda's speech was well received by the audience. Although Fonda's speech ended at about 2:30 p.m. the entire program continued until approximately 4:30 p.m. with numerous speakers who identified themselves as being associated with the VVAW. All these speakers criticized the present United States Government administration for continuing the war in Vietnam and urged those present to do everything in their power to exert pressure on the present administration to bring about the end of the war in Vietnam. Following these speakers, folk songs were sung.

JANE FONDA:
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

On November 5, 1972, Source Two advised that at 8:00 p.m. on November 5, 1972, Jane Fonda, under the sponsorship of the Associated Students, Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, California, spoke to a group of approximately 200 to 250 individuals, all of whom appeared to be of student age attending Orange Coast College, (OCC). Source Two said although this affair was publicized as being sponsored by the Associated Students, OCC, it was in fact promoted by the VVAW.

Source Two advised the VVAW charged the Associated Students, OCC, $1,500 for the appearance of Jane Fonda at that institution. Source Two advised that in order to defray this cost of $1,500, the Associated Students, OCC, charged $1.00 admission fee to hear Fonda. Source Two attributed the fact this affair did not receive a large response was because it was not afforded any prior press coverage.

Source Two advised Fonda's speech, which lasted from approximately 8:10 p.m. to 9:20 p.m. was in substance identical to the speech given by her at the University of California, at Irvine, California, earlier in the day. Source Two advised Fonda's speech was more or less a campaign speech in which she stressed the point that if President Nixon was reelected, the United States would be at war for another four years.

On November 6, 1972, Source Three, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on November 6, 1972, between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., the Indochina Peace Campaign sponsored a rally at East Los Angeles City College, Los Angeles, California. Source Three said the principal speaker at this rally was Jane Fonda. Source Three advised approximately 400 individuals were present at this rally, all of whom appeared to be students.

Source Three advised that Holly Near, an entertainer, spoke at this rally. According to Source Three, Near talked about the exploitation of women in South Vietnam, and the unhappiness and discontent which prevails among the servicemen in the United States military Forces in Vietnam. Source Three said Near emphasized the American people must realize by now the war in Vietnam is a "lost cause."

JANE FONDA:
INDOCHINA PEACE CAMPAIGN

Source Three advised another speaker, George Smith, who introduced himself as being a former member of the United States Green Beret Force who had been a POW in North Vietnam for over two years, went into great detail in stressing the point that American POWs were being well treated in North Vietnam POW camps. Source Three said Smith said he was ashamed of the part he took in the killing of North Vietnam soldiers, and that now he is devoting his life in making the American people aware of the "crime" being committed by the United States in Vietnam.

Source Three advised that just prior to the appearance of Jane Fonda, Holly Near sang folk songs. Source Three said for about the last twenty minutes of the rally, Jane Fonda spoke against the United States being involved in the war in Vietnam, and urged those present to do everything in their power to bring about the election of Senator George S. McGovern to the office of President of the United States.

Source Three described Senator McGovern as a man who has an extreme desire to bring peace to the United States. Source Three advised Fonda stressed the point that President Nixon has "deserted" the POWs, has "deserted" the American people, and has rallied to the cause of big industry which profits by the prolonging of the war in Vietnam.

Source Three said Fonda pointed out she is doing everything she can to make the American people aware of the corruption which exists in the United States Government. Source Three advised Fonda said the Indochina Peace Campaign was set up primarily for the purpose of informing the American people of this corruption.

Source Three advised Fonda terminated her speech by stating that as "true Americans" those present should do all they can to insure that President Nixon is not reelected, because if he should be reelected, it would mean the United States would be involved in an "unjust" and "ruthless" war for another four years, and the American people would be guilty of the murder of countless defenseless civilians who are the victims of the United States bombs dropped in North Vietnam.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR

On October 30, 1972, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that during a Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) State-wide Coordinator's Meeting at Gainesville, Florida, October 29, 1972, the following information was obtained:

[REDACTED]

... receive a message from [REDACTED] National Headquarters, New York, that Mrs. Cora Weiss, nationally known antiwar activist, had a private meeting with Madame Binh of the National Liberation Front (NLF) Peace Delegation in Paris, France. Mrs. Weiss was advised that the NLF wanted to sign a peace treaty with the United States on October 26, 1972, but the United States wanted to wait until after October 30, 1972. The NLF feared that if they waited until after October 30, 1972, the South Vietnamese Government would kill all their political prisoners in order to eliminate opposition after a peace treaty was signed. The NLF advised that this fear is being fulfilled since the Vietnamese Government is reportedly killing their political prisoners. The NLF said because of this they would not sign the peace treaty after October 30, 1972, and they are prepared to fight Nixon for another four years.

On November 21, 1972, this same source advised that in recent VVAW meetings in Tampa and Gainesville, Florida, no mention has been made concerning any further instructions from Madame Binh.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR, et al. v.

FLORIDA (TALLAHASSEE DIVISION) CIVIL NO. TCA 1843

Pursuant to the request of Mr. Robert L. Kusch, Chief of your Appeals Section, for information upon which to base an affidavit in connection with the allegations concerning wiretapping in the complaint, we have checked our records and determined that this Bureau has not had any electronic surveillance coverage directed at telephone numbers 212 725-5680, 5681, 5682, and 5683 (National Headquarters, Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW), New York, New York); 512 451-2841

Florida); 305 681-7982 (VVAW Office, Hialeah, Florida); and 501 521-7484 (VVAW Office, Fayetteville, Arkansas).

NOTE: Plaintiffs, the VVAW and 11 members thereof have brought suit against the AG, the Acting Director, and others alleging that defendants' activities in subpoenaing the individual plaintiffs to appear before a grand jury at the time of the national conventions violated their constitutional rights. The Department in defending the action has requested advice as to whether or not the plaintiffs' allegations concerning electronic surveillance of certain VVAW Offices were true. The Domestic Intelligence Division has advised that we have never had coverage on any of the above set forth VVAW Offices.

ALABAMA - MISSISSIPPI REGION, VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR, INC., 1317 14th AVENUE,
TUSCALOOSA, ALABAMA 35401

Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) is an anti-war organization organized in 1967 and headquartered in New York City. Its published objective is to "demand an immediate cessation of fighting and the withdrawal of all American troops from Indochina". VVAW has participated in several demonstrations, including massive demonstration in Washington, D. C., April 19-23, 1971.

On November 13, 1972, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available a six - page printed News Letter Number 20, bearing letterhead of the Alabama-Mississippi Region, Vietnam Veterans Against The War, Inc., 1317 14th Avenue, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35401. This news letter sets forth a background of the VVAW, both nationally and the Alabama-Mississippi Region.

This news letter is set forth as follows:

NEWS LETTER
NUMBER 20

Because so many people have been added to the mailing list we felt that it would be appropriate to review our past activities, discuss our objectives, and take a look at our current on-going projects:

Nationally there are over 30,000 members. VVAW is recognized by the Veterans Administration as a legitimate Veterans Organization. VVAW has organized marches and other actions in every state in the nation. Never has VVAW participated in Any violence. The Justice Department, the FBI, and others in the Administration have and are attempting to discredit VVAW. We believe this is being done because we do have credibility; people are listening! Is Nixon afraid that the American people will learn the truth?

The Alabama-Mississippi Region has active chapters in seven cities and members All over both states. The members for the most part are unemployed, woefully underemployed, or students, and those who are generally finding great difficulty accepting the complacency demonstrated by many Americans to the continuation of what we know to be an unjust, immoral war. Our membership is open to anyone in agreement with our objectives, our sincere dedication to non-violence, and interested in taking time to work for our mutual objectives.

We have led anti-war marches, held investigations into war crimes in Indo-China, taken stands on local issues consistent with our objectives, worked in V.A. Hospitals, written legislation to improve conditions for vets., and fought discrimination whenever we came across it. Members of VVAW have been actively involved in the McGovern and NDPA campaigns.

Because we generally have a distrust of organizations, VVAW is making every effort to maintain a loose knit, yet effective, democratic structure. Your ideas and help are needed. If you want to participate (to whatever degree you can) get in touch with the chapter nearest you. If there is no chapter near you-- you can start one. We have a speaker's bureau that will help with programs in your area and can help you organize a chapter. Write or call the regional office for more information.

VETERANS DAY in BIRMINGHAM After being told that VVAW could march in the parade the parade officials reconsidered and said that we had not registered in time (exceptions were made for other groups however) At 11:00 about 35 Vets gathered in Woodrow Wilson Park, posed for police pictures, talked with the press, made signs, and planned the day's activities. By day's end about sixty VVAW members had appeared and at one point during the parade 300 to 350 people were chanting at the military passing in review.

So - the war takes money out of your pocket two ways:

1. weapons production fuels the inflation that whittles down the buying power of your dollar;
2. Your tax money is used to pay for an unjustifiable war half a world away, not to provide a better way of life for you and yours right here at home.

HOW CAN YOU STOP THIS DOUBLE THEFT?

You can work to end American involvement totally and completely:

- bring the rest of the boys home (120,000 U.S. soldiers, sailors, airmen are still in Southeast Asia)
- bring the bombs home
- bring the planes home
- bring the warships home and let the Vietnamese people

- bring Thieu down
- bring about a coalition government

The END of the war can be the beginning of more purchasing power for your dollar of more benefits for you from your tax dollar

For the sake of the PEOPLE of Indochina

For the sake of YOUR OWN pocketbook

THIS WAR MUST END!

Last week two more members of the VVAW were indicted in connection with the Gainesville Conspiracy Case. Pleas will be entered on November 6, the day before the national election. Trial date has not been sent. It is estimated that $150,000 will be needed to provide a defense for the defendants. The VVAW is on trial and it is up to us to see that the trial is conducted with a proper defense. The forces of the entire U.S. government are arrayed against us. We must help ourselves. Please send contributions to the Regional Office. Make out checks to the GAINESVILLE CONSPIRACY DEFENSE FUND.

YOU MAY BE NEXT.

In the past few months, one VVAW member from the region was subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury that brought the indictments against the Gainesville 8. There have also been instances of members and their families being approached and questioned by FBI agents concerning VVAW. If you are subpoenaed:

1. Contact the Regional Office. We will secure the proper legal assistance.
2. Answer no questions put to you by the serving official.
3. Ask the serving official NO questions.

If an FBI agent attempts to question you:

1. Notify the Regional Office with all details.
2. Answer NO questions, no matter how harmless they may seem at first.
3. Do not attempt to engage the agent in a discussion of any kind. They did not come to see you to discuss the current political situation.
4. Inform your friends and relatives of these instructions.

If you are a member or friend of VVAW, your following these instructions can prevent a lot of trouble for yourself and others. Anything you say can be taken out of context and used against you.

Again, it is imperative that you notify the Regional Office of any of the above activities.

Also, notify us if you suspect your mail is being tampered with or your phone bugged. There has been a rash of these types of occurrences lately and we wish to keep record of them.

They're trying to scare us, folks. We don't scare too easy.

GAINESVILLE ACTION

The Florida Region of VVAW will be sponsoring an action on Nov. 17 at the University of Florida in Gainesville. This action will take place during the University of Florida's Homecoming weekend and will focus on the ongoing Indochina war, the election outcome, and the struggle of our 8 brothers now awaiting trial on trumped up charges of conspiracy to do violence.

Florida has asked that the Ala-Miss VVAW do its best to help make the action a success. If you can possibly make it down, do so. As usual, carrying facilities and some of those little amenities that make any VVAW gathering a nice experience, will be provided by our hosts in Gainesville. Bring sleeping gear and enough food to last the weekend and your trip. Call Tuscaloosa for details.

REPORT FROM THE COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE ELECTOR PROBLEM IN ALABAMA

Again this Presidential year it is difficult, if not impossible to cast a vote for the National Democratic Party's candidate for President. Actually there are two slates of electors running pledged to McGovern-Shriver. This splitting of votes intended for the same candidates in effect eliminates whatever chance McGovern-Shriver may have had in the State. It is the findings of this committee that this came about because old party bosses of the conservative democratic party in Alabama have been unwilling to work with the NDPA. The National Democratic Party of Alabama, an outgrowth of the Black community to deal with Black problems has grown in scope to encompass issues affecting the lives of each Alabamian- the war, unemployment, prison reform, education, health care, housing, agriculture, as well as race relations. The NDPA elector slate offered to withdraw and allow the regular Democratic electors to be on the ballot under both party emblems. Vance's conservative group refused the offer. It is the same Vance group who offer the voter (under the rooster) men like Walter Flowers who have consistantly voted the promilitary block. The old Democratic Party is not as seriously concerned with electing McGovern as it should be- only the NDPA is.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)
CONVOY TO CAIRO, ILLINOIS
NOVEMBER 18, 1972

Springfield Confidential Source One, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 18, 1972, that the Kansas City Chapter of the VVAW plans to sponsor a convoy to Cairo, Illinois, scheduled to leave Kansas City, Missouri on November 18, 1972, en route to Cairo, Illinois, with medical and food supplies as well as clothing and other miscellaneous merchandise for the poor people in Cairo. This Source indicated that the Kansas City VVAW Chapter is working very closely with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the Cairo trip.

The VVAW was founded in the Spring of 1967, by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, VVAW opened a National Office, founded the first GI newspaper "Vietnam GI" and sent close to 500 veterans into the McCarthy campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic Convention at Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the Fall of 1969. Members of VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and battled Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. At present membership of the VVAW, nationally, consists of 8,500 members.

CONVOY TO CAIRO, ILLINOIS
NOVEMBER 18, 1972

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) is a black civil rights organization headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia.

Springfield Confidential Source Two who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 17, 1972, that approximately 35 individuals planned to depart the Kansas City area in convoy in the early morning hours of November 18, 1972, en route to Cairo. Approximately 10 individuals representing the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, as well as a representative from the Kansas City, Missouri, Mayor's Office, would accompany the convoy.

William Bowers, Chief of Police, Cairo, Illinois, advised on November 20, 1972, that in the mid-afternoon of November 18, 1972, approximately eight automobiles with Kansas license plates and two automobiles with Missouri license plates arrived at the Headquarters Building of the United Front of Cairo in Cairo, Illinois. One of these vehicles was a 1971 or 1972 International Scout which appeared to be filled with food and clothing which was then unloaded into the Headquarters Building. Bowers stated that the above vehicles contained approximately 30 to 35 white men and women, many of whom were dressed in Army fatigues and others dressed in assorted casual clothing. [REDACTED] added that at about 3:00 P.M., November 18, 1972, [REDACTED] of the United Front of Cairo, a black man, as well as two local black women, accompanied by the 30 to 35 persons who had arrived in the out of state vehicles, appeared in the downtown section of Cairo carrying handwritten signs to the effect "no rights - no money", "the boycott is still on", and other signs to a similar effect.

Bowers stated that this group marched up and down the downtown area of Cairo for approximately one hour and then dispersed. Bowers stated that there were no disturbances or arrests made pertaining to this activity.

Bowers stated that it was his belief that the individuals arriving in Cairo in the above mentioned ten out of state vehicles departed the Cairo area in the late evening of November 18, 1972, without incident.

The United Front of Cairo is a predominantly black militant organization which has attempted the economic boycott of white merchants in Cairo since April, 1969. Cairo has been plagued with racial tension and sporadic sniping incidents since that time.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)
CONVOY TO CAIRO, ILLINOIS
NOVEMBER 18, 1972

Springfield Confidential Source Two advised on November 20, 1972, that source had received no information to indicate that the persons who arrived in Cairo in the afternoon of November 18, 1972, had brought into Cairo any firearms, ammunition, or explosives or that these persons had intended to cause any disruptive activities in the area during their brief presence.

The 10/4/71 issue of "The News Gazette" reported that a local Chapter of VVAW was organizing and that the initial meeting to discuss possible activities would be held on 10/7/71 at 1308 West University Avenue, Urbana, Illinois. It should be noted that [REDACTED]

An article appearing in "The News Gazette", a daily newspaper published in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, on 2/10/71, with a by-line of TERRY MITCHELL reported a mass meeting of 1200 University of Illinois students who responded to a nationwide call for mobilization against the United States' incursion into Laos and Cambodia. SOCIALISM

We are not only good at destroying the old world, we are also good at building the new. Not only can the Chinese people live without begging from the imperialists, they will live a better life than that in the imperialist countries.

Organized Crime In The White House

When news of the attempted abotage of democratic party headquarters by trained military agents, known as "black he administration" and made public, the Civil Criminal Jure of Richardson was exposed once again.

But Nixon's courtship with organized crime has been a profitable one for both parties for a long time. When he began his political career, Nixon's connections with organized crime were already established. His campaign manager in 1946, Murray "Hotiner", was a lawyer who handled over 267 cases for organized crime figures.

BLOOD MONEY

In order to pay for his campaign, Nixon, like many other politicians, received money from underworld sources. California mobster Mickey Cohen stated publicly that he donated thousands of dollars to early Nixon campaigns. This has never been denied by the president.

ANSKY, BROVITZ, COPPOLA

Max Oroyitz and Trigger Mike Coppola, well-known members of mobster Meyer Lansky's gang, worked in an organization known as General Development Corp. in Florida, headed by Fred Mackle, a friend of Richard Nixon. Oroyitz was convicted of stock fraud in 1968 by Robert Morgenthau, U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

Soon after this, Morgenthau was removed from office by Nixon.

CAPE FLORIDA-CAPE

Nixon participated in promotion activities and publicity stunts for the Cape Florida Development Co., which resulted in millions of dollars worth of profit for the owners, former Sen. George Smathers, a Nixon close friend, Bobo Babcock, both of whom are really front men for Meyer Lansky.

From this corporation, Nixon purchased his Key Biscayne property, the Florida White House Cape Florida Development purchased over $1 million worth of Key Biscayne land from World Wide Realty, an organization infested with Lansky's lackies. World Wide had, in addition, received a $5 million loan from the Teamster Union's pension fund. Managers of this union's fund have made many such loans to other fronts, including Meyer Lansky's Miami banks, which may account for the sudden, unexplained release from prison of teamster boss and racketeer Jimmy Hoffa by Nixon's ally an-in this country, poor people always get arrested. Every time law. They are imprisoned for months or even years for various jive charges. Their only crime really, is that of being poor. Gangster friends of Richard Nixon caught dealing in millions of dollars worth of stolen stock, are not even arrested.

Before Nick Alexander Morganthau, it was investigating the use of silver bank notes by various states to camouflage their deficits. Thanks to Allen, this investigation was dropped.

According to Alfred W. McCoy, author of The Politics of Heroin in Southeast Asia, this plant is the "most important" for mass production of heroin sold on the streets of the United States.

C.I.A. involvement in heroin traffic is a documented, proven fact. It is also well known that former vice-president of South Vietnam General Ky is a major supplier of heroin.

In return, he is to be paid $100,000. The report also states that the money will be paid in installments by the government. The report also states that the money will be paid in installments by the government. The report also states that the money will be paid in installments by the government.

There are still a few examples of the relationship between that low-fired gun and the North, defender of the high-fired, nuclear-armed South, that the United States has been unable to break.

The man, who lives in a plain, any kind of a house, and who is exempt from rent, lived in a flat. He has no radio, no car, and no maid. His family, the mother, so she didn't want to be a Senior Rent recipient, was exempting her from paying the increase if the new rent was more than 1/3 of her income. She is caught between a cheap landlord and a society with no concern of the poor.

Magdalena Pata is one among 1 million people in NYC who are over 65. Half of these Senior Citizens have incomes below poverty level. It is a sad reality that many of these people are not getting the help they need. The City of New York is not doing enough to help these people.

These people, who were men any bold this country, played all their lives in sweatshops, garment factories, and as their wives, have made no money, and forgotten by the time they get profit money and have taken the risk for the money and the risk.

TOKENS, SOUNDS, AND MEANING AT WORK

There are no known solutions such as I have noticed in the home industry, really an honest smart business man can these homes we can't expect any consideration for people about one half of all elderly people are within a year after they are in nursing home they are in a few months in a hospital and brutal treatment and total disregard of their needs. Even in non-profit homes with decent facilities old people still find themselves isolated from society.
I don't know about their best years of life.

Another important theme responds to a common question in public health: how many people are in the wrong place, and how many are in the right place? In the past, if a woman lived in a poor neighborhood, she was more likely to have a low birth weight baby than if she lived in a rich neighborhood.
But if she moved to a rich neighborhood, her baby's weight would increase. This is not a new finding. It has been known for decades that a child's weight at birth is strongly related to the mother's education, income, and occupation.
But now we know that the relationship is not just about the mother's background. It is also about the neighborhood she lives in. A child born in a poor neighborhood is more likely to be born with a low birth weight than a child born in a rich neighborhood, even if the mother's education, income, and occupation are the same. This is because the neighborhood itself affects the child's weight. The neighborhood's environment, such as the quality of the air, the availability of healthy food, and the level of violence, all play a role in determining the child's weight at birth. This is a new finding, and it has important implications for public health. It suggests that improving the environment of poor neighborhoods could help to reduce the risk of low birth weight babies.
This is a goal that should be a priority for public health officials.

A natural place for old people to look for company and stimulation would be in their own families. But the "generation gap" induced by this youth oriented and profit hungry society, together with too expensive and too small apartments, have families to abandon their old people.

By looking superficially at the problems our elderly people are facing, it would be easy to consider it their problem, just as we could consider addicts or prisoners as having their own separate problems. But when we look deeper it becomes clear that people don't have problems because of individual reasons, but because of the way we solve problems, and the methods we use are closely connected with the way we run our lives, the way we run society, which in the end takes us to the capitalist system in this country, where profit and property come first and people last.

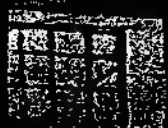

So when we are going to change attitudes and conditions regarding people or any other group of people, we must change the system that causes those conditions. Therefore we must co-ordinate all work in and about people, groups, individuals and by changing our thinking, we will change our actions. We will live better and think better. Live and let others live.

FIGHT BACK!

When work began on an 8 million dollar school construction site on Tinton Avenue in the South Bronx, none of the thousands of qualified Black and Puerto Rican construction workers in that community were hired on the job. Fight Back, an organization of Black and Puerto Rican construction workers, demanded half of the jobs on the project. Fight Back is dealing with the crippling rate of unemployment in their community, where more than half the young adults can not find jobs. Community members joined with the Fight Back workers on the job site early in the morning. If the new school does not bring jobs, then what real advantage is the education it provides? "If we don't work, they don't work" is the Fight Back platform.

BUILDING THE PEOPLE'S STRENGTH

Fight Back is building up the strength of the people. Everyone in the community in the Bronx works on a construction job. After hours, the members teach a screen brothers in the community so they can qualify for decent jobs in construction work. After a member is hired, Fight Back investigates the job to make sure all the safety precautions are taken care of. All persons employed through Fight Back join the regular trade unions and receive standard union "book" privileges of job security. When unions are on strike, Fight Back stays off the job in support. However, Fight Back does not rely on the two faced union leadership. Very often Black & Puerto Rican workers are harassed and suspended for phoney reasons that hide the racist interests of the union bosses & contractors. Therefore Fight Back makes the bosses agree that no Fight Back worker can be fired without the approval of their own leadership.

67 JOBS

Fight Back is building strength in their community. They have made a third world People's Park, held many block parties, given out free lunches, started a day time child care program, helped make peace with local youth gangs and have join has created 67 permanent jobs in the first 4 months of work in the Bronx. Fight Back organizations exist in other cities as well.

RACISM SERVES THE BOSSES

The construction industry is booming in New York. $2,600,000,000 per year is spent in the city alone. There are 100,000 construction jobs here. The department of labor estimates that 30,000 new workers will be able to find steady work over the next 10 years.

deserved benefits of their work. In exchange for the juicy, top-heavy contracts, Brennan got Rockefeller, Lindsay, and other politicians to sabotage all laws about union racism, union democracy, etc. Liberal integration plans (like the Joint Apprenticeship Plan and the New York Plan), human rights commission findings, state supreme court decisions, Federal laws, and the Constitution itself have all been sent to the scrap heap.

Racism has always served the bosses. A wage schedule for the construction of the Incredibly in the midst of this boom, the rate of Black and Puerto Rican employment in construction has fallen from 7.4% to 6.8%. The more skilled, more secure, and higher paying jobs, such as plumbing and sheet metal work, are almost totally closed to non-white workers.

Our taxes pay almost half of all the construction bills (one billion per year in N.Y.). Schools, public housing, hospitals, and pollution control projects are good examples of new building here. Too often, however, our taxes go for senseless projects such as the wasteful Mall in Albany. Rich bankers and politicians have tried to keep all of these Croton Reservoir in 1895 listed daily pay as follows: "Common labor, white $1.30 to $1.50; common labor, colored $1.25 to $1.40; and common labor, Italian $1.15 to $1.25." It makes construction workers fight against each other for phoney advantages. Being split apart, these workers can't even focus the bosses to give them a fair share of the wealth they create for fear of being replaced by another racial sub-group of workers.

Real job security can only come if workers unite on the job, and if they refuse to let any worker unite if they take over.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

The following is a basic outline of your legal rights. In reality we have no rights that the police respect. The important thing to remember is to be cool and don't act smart. If you question their authority it will only give them an extra reason to bust you. Be aware of what goes on around you when someone is being busted. Try and get witnesses, and badge numbers of arresting cops. Sometimes different police will show up at court and knowledge of this switch may get the case dismissed.

1. Carry some identification on you at all times. You may be stopped at any time and brought down to the police station until you can prove who you are.

2. You may be stopped on the street if the police feel you look suspicious. You do not have to answer any questions. However you must produce identification.

3. If you are arrested, remain silent. You are only required by law to give your name and address. In New York you must sign a fingerprint card before you can be released. So sign.

4. If a police officer is not in uniform, ask him to identify himself. He has no authority until he identifies himself.

5. Police have the right to stop your car and ask for your license and registration. Get out of the car and close the door. This will keep them from looking inside the car. It is illegal for them to search your car without probable cause.

6. Police have no right to enter your home unless they have a search warrant or arrest warrant.

7. You may not resist arrest forcibly or by going limp. To resist arrest is a crime in itself. Even if you are acquitted you can do time for resisting arrest.

8. Once you are arrested you have the right to have a lawyer present and the right to a phone call. If these rights are denied--and they probably will be--keep requesting them. Remain silent otherwise.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)
CONVOY TO CAIRO, ILLINOIS
NOVEMBER 18, 1972

b7D
On October 18, 1972, [REDACTED] advised that the Kansas City chapter of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) planned to sponsor a convoy to Cairo, Illinois, to leave Kansas City on November 18, 1972. The purpose of the convoy was to deliver clothing, medicine and canned goods to the Black community in Cairo.

The VVAW was founded in the spring of 1967, by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, VVAW opened a national office, founded the first GI newspaper, "Vietnam GI," and sent close to 500 veterans into the McCarthy campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic convention in Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the fall of 1969. Members of VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and battled Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. At present, membership of the VVAW, nationally, consists of 8,500 members.

On November 21, 1972, [REDACTED] advised that approximately 30 individuals from the Kansas City, Missouri, Topeka,

[REDACTED] advised that the convoy arrived in Cairo the following morning, November 18, 1972, and its contingency assembled with other demonstrators at the St. Columba Church in Cairo for both political and religious meetings. A short time thereafter approximately fifty persons joined in a peaceful demonstration in downtown Cairo. The theme of the demonstrators was "White Oppression of the Black Man."

[REDACTED] indicated that donations of food, clothing, medicine, and other miscellaneous items were deposited at a small red brick house located one block west of the St. Columba Church. Source noted that in previous convoys, donations were deposited at the St. Columba Church.

Later that evening, members of the convoy met with Cairo Blacks at Hazel's Barbecue for supper. The groups remained at Hazel's for approximately one hour, then broke up. The VVAW convoy departed Cairo at approximately 6:00 p.m., November 18, 1972, and arrived in Kansas City approximately 3:30 a.m., November 19, 1972.

[REDACTED] advised that throughout the weekend, no weapons were observed. There was no police confrontation, nor any plans made to cause riotous conditions. Source indicated that it appeared the VVAW was not warmly received by the Black community. Source noted that at past rallies, the VVAW was lodged and fed by the Black coalitions. Source noted, however, that at this particular rally, there was very little mingling between VVAW and Black contingents.

of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, [REDACTED] was one person [REDACTED] on a list of individuals noted as having interest in VVAW activities. Subsequent investigation has proven negative regarding any further details regarding [REDACTED] involvement. It should be noted that on 5/24/72 [REDACTED] the individual mentioned above, advised that VVAW at the University of Illinois was largely defunct primarily of the winding down of the Vietnam war and because of the dissension among the veterans interested in political activity, culminated by the debate which took place prior to the 7/4/72 parade in Champaign, Illinois. Subsequent contact with the Illinois Veterans Office during the fall of 1972 has proved largely negative relative to VVAW activities and in particular with reference to [REDACTED] involvement.

Recommendation

In view of the fact that there is no clear evidence that [REDACTED] has ever been directly involved with VVAW activities, coupled with the fact that he has not served with the United States military in any capacity, Springfield plans to discontinue active investigation. Subject is not going to be interviewed since it is believed that such an interview would be essentially counter-productive in terms of the information garnered. Subject is not recommended for the ADEX because of his lack of activity; however, should subject's activities become such that they are deemed to constitute a threat to national security in any point in the future, active investigation will be reinstituted.

DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Now come the defendants, by their undersigned attorneys, and respectfully move this Honorable Court to dismiss the complaint herein on the grounds (1) that the complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted; (2) that all activities of the defendants Kleindienst, Gray, and Stafford in the premises were performed in furtherance of their official duties, were constitutional and not in excess of their statutory authority, and said defendants are, therefore, absolutely immune from civil liability therefor under the doctrine of official immunity; and (3) that the suit is barred by the doctrine of sovereign immunity since it is in law and fact a suit against the United States to which the United States has not consented.

In the alternative, the defendants move this Honorable Court under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for summary judgment on the ground that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

In support of this Motion, the Court's attention is respectfully invited to the attached affidavit of Benjamin C. Flannagan, Attorney, Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, and to the attached memorandum of points and authorities.

DEFENDANTS' MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS, OR, IN THE ALTER-NATIVE FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Statement of the Case

The eleven individual plaintiffs were subpoenaed on July 7 and 8, 1972 to appear before a federal grand jury sitting in the Northern District of Florida on July 10, 1972. On July 10, 1972, plaintiffs, in a purported class action, filed the complaint herein to enjoin the enforcement of the subpoenas and seeking a declaratory judgment that the subpoenas, the grand jury proceedings, and alleged illegal surveillance of the National Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) national office are illegal. Plaintiffs seek a permanent injunction against such activities in the future and compensatory and exemplary damages.

(ENCL.)

Plaintiffs filed a Motion for a temporary restraining order and for preliminary injunction on July 10, 1972, urging that a continuance of the subpoenas was required under the First Amendment to allow the witness' participation in the Democratic Convention in Miami. This Motion was argued and denied. The plaintiffs then applied to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for an emergency injunction pending appeal. A panel of the Court of Appeals (Brown, C. J. Goldberg, and Morgan, J. J.) unanimously denied the application on July 11, 1972 with the conclusion that the Court would "... communicate with Judge David L. Middlebrooks, Jr. with regard to having appellants called before the Federal grand jury at the earliest possible time." Plaintiffs have withdrawn their appeal from the denial of the temporary restraining order.

This Court is well aware of the grand jury proceedings which ensued, much of which is set forth in this Court's "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" and the decision of the Court of Appeals in In Re Grand Jury Proceedings of Robert W. Beverly, et al. v. United States, ___ F. 2d ___ (5th Cir., September 25, 1972, No. 72-2752) involving four civil contempt proceedings growing out of the grand jury's investigation. Suffice to say that the eleven individual plaintiffs appeared before the grand jury and, although no testimony was forthcoming, all of the plaintiffs, save plaintiffs Jordan, Donner, Horton and Beverly, were excused from further questioning.

Plaintiffs Horton and Beverly and two other individuals were subsequently adjudged in contempt of court for failing to testify after having been granted immunity pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §6002-6003 and being directed by the Court to respond to the questions propounded. The contempt orders were vacated by the Court of Appeals for failure of the United States to affirm or deny unlawful electronic surveillance of counsel.

On July 13, 1972, the grand jury returned an indictment against six members of the VVAW, including five of the individual plaintiffs herein, Camil, Michelson, Kniffin, Foss, and Purdue, for violations arising out of their alleged plans to unlawfully disrupt the Republican National Convention. The grand jury returned a superseding indictment on October 18, 1972, adding a seventh VVAW member and one non-member.

/ Another plaintiff, Beverly, was not indicted but was named a co-conspirator.

/ The indictment charged violations of Title 18, U.S.C., §231(a)(1) (civil disorders which may obstruct, delay and adversely affect commerce); Title 26, U.S.C., §§5861(d) and 5871 (unlawful possession of an unregistered destructive device); conspiracy to violate Title 18, U.S.C., §2101 (interstate travel or communication to perpetrate a riot); Title 18, U.S.C. §844(i) (malicious damage and destruction, by means of explosives, of personal and real property used in interstate commerce); Title 18, U.S.C., §844(n) (use of explosives to commit felonies prosecutable in courts of the United States); and Title 26, U.S.C. §5861 (c) and (d), and Title 18, U.S.C., §371 (conspiracy). Inter alia, the indictment alleged that:

"It was the part of the said conspiracy that the defendants and the individual co-conspirators would organize numerous 'fire teams' to attack with automatic weapons, fire and incendiary devices police stations, police cars, and stores in Miami Beach, Florida, on various dates between August 21 and 24, 1972; that the defendants and the individual co-conspirators would fire lead weights, 'fried' marbles, ball bearings, 'cherry' bombs, and smoke bombs at police in Miami Beach, Florida, on various dates between August 21 and 24, 1972, by means of wrist rocket slingshots and cross-bows; that the defendants and the individual co-conspirators would disrupt communications systems in Miami Beach, Florida, on various dates between August 21 and 24, 1972."

ARGUMENT

I. The Complaint Fails to State A Claim Upon Which Relief Can Be Granted. Alternatively, Defendants Are Entitled To Summary Judgment.

A. Allegations of Misuse of the Grand Jury.

Plaintiffs' first and third causes of action are based on allegations that the grand jury convened by defendants and the subpoenas served upon plaintiffs were a misuse of the grand jury process to prevent plaintiffs from exercising their First Amendment rights and to detain plaintiffs without lawful process in violation of the Fifth, Sixth, and Eighth Amendments. (Complaint, pp. 9-10). Plaintiffs allege that they had plans to sponsor a march on July 10, 1972, the first day of the Democratic Convention (Complaint, par. 19). They allege that because all of the subpoenas were returnable on this date "notwithstanding the obvious impossibility of the grand jury hearing this testimony all at once", the subpoenas were "deliberately served to coincide with the opening of the Democratic National Convention and the planned VVAW activities already described and were intended to prevent, chill, and deter plaintiffs and members of their class from engaging in these lawful activities." (Complaint, par. 21).

The "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" by this Court in the civil contempt cases involving plaintiffs Beverly and Horton and two other individuals, and the decision of the Court of Appeals in these cases, In Re Grand Jury Proceedings Of Robert W. Beverly, et al. v. United States, supra, show conclusively that plaintiffs' complaint on these grounds fails to state a cause of action. The same identical allegations were made in that case and the Court of Appeals held, pp. 30-35:

Because twenty-three witnesses could not of course appear at the same time, and further because of the simultaneous timing of the commands of the subpoenas to appear coinciding with the opening of the Convention, appellants assert that substantial questions are raised as to misuse of grand jury process to prevent exercise of their First Amendment rights. They urge that the manner in which the grand jury proceedings continued underscored the abuse of process. They point out that after calling twenty-three persons to appear on the day of the first scheduled VVAW demonstration, four witnesses were finally dismissed two days later and all but two [19 These were excused to return August 7. On July 25 their subpoenas were adjourned without day.] of the remainder were dismissed on July 13, the last day of the Convention.

The argument continues that since many of those under subpoena throughout the Democratic Convention were never called before the grand jury, and there is nothing of record to indicate that the appellants were selected on other than a random basis for questioning and a tender of immunity, these appellants were also being held in Tallahassee under subpoena with the express purpose of preventing their exercise of First Amendment rights by demonstrating against the Vietnam war in Miami Beach. Lastly, they say that even if the subpoenas were not intended to have that effect, nevertheless they did have exactly such an effect, one that could easily have been obviated by a short continuance of the grand jury session, thus "narrowing the demands of the government as required by the Constitution".

Cited in support of appellants' position are such cases as Bates v. City of Little Rock, 1960, 361 U.S. 516, 80 S. Ct. 412, 4 L. Ed. 2d 480; NAACP v. Alabama ex rel Patterson (cited in appellants' brief as NAACP v. Button), 1958, 357 U.S. 449, 78 S. Ct. 1163, 2 L. Ed. 2d 1488, and Shelton v. Tucker, 1960, 364 U.S. 479, 81 S. Ct. 247, 5 L. Ed. 2d 231, protecting NAACP membership lists and the like from compelled disclosure to state authorities on First Amendment grounds of freedom of association absent a showing of compelling state interest to require disclosure.

It is simply a statement of long recognized horn-book principles of constitutional law to say that no government, either state or federal, may encroach upon First Amendment rights without the demonstration of a compelling interest. But such a principle has slight application in the situation here under examination. Of the twenty-three witnesses under subpoena, six (the "Gainesville Six") were indicted, two others (the appellants Beverly and Chambers) were named in the indictment as co-conspirators; and this was accomplished through the testimony of other witnesses during the three days, July 10 - July 13, when a great deal of the time and efforts of the grand jury, its attendant advisor, and the district judge was taken up with dealing with these appellants, their refusal to testify, the grant of immunity to them, their continued refusal to testify, and the resultant contempt proceedings against them. It is thus clear after the fact that the grand jury was called together for the investigation of serious criminal offenses and that it did not simply keep these appellants or other witnesses idly waiting around. It is of course common practice, of which we take judicial notice, for grand juries to schedule the investigation of several cases, each involving a number of witnesses, for a single day. Without in any way criticizing the appellants or their counsel for the exercise or the attempted exercise of what they consider fundamental rights, we suggest that grand jury testimony from twenty-three or more witnesses during a one or two day session is not an unreasonable expectation, provided of course the witnesses turn out to be cooperative.

We note further the district court's conclusions [20 These two statements are set forth as conclusions of law in the district court's August 7 "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" following the July 25 hearing. Nevertheless they are more in the nature of findings from the evidence, and are probably binding on us under the "clearly erroneous" rule of Rule 52(a) F.R. Civ. P. We do not labor the points but simply note as demonstrated in the text that whether findings or conclusions they find clear support in the record.] 9 and 10 (Footnote 12, supra) to the effect that:

"9. The government's interest in the matters under investigation, as revealed by the questions asked of the witness, is immediate, substantial and subordinating; there is a substantial connection between the information sought from the witness and the government's interest in the investigation; and the means of obtaining the information is necessary and there is a substantial possibility that the matters asked about will expose criminal activity.

10. The questions asked the witness did not violate any First Amendment rights of the witness."

The recent Supreme Court decision in Branzburg v. Hayes, 1972, U.S., 92 S. Ct. 2646, L. Ed. 2d , dealing with and rejecting the contention that news sources of reporters are entitled to First Amendment protection against grand jury inquiry, reiterates the overriding importance of grand jury testimony, whatever its effect on news gathering:

"Fair and effective law enforcement aimed at providing security for the person and property of the individual is a fundamental function of government, and the grand jury plays an important, constitutionally mandated role in this process. On the records now before us, we perceive no basis for holding that the public interest in law enforcement and in ensuring effective grand jury proceedings is insufficient to override the consequential, but uncertain, burden on news gathering which is said to result from insisting that reporters, like other citizens, respond to relevant questions put to them in the course of a valid grand jury investigation or criminal trial." 92 S. Ct. at page 2660-61.

The duty of testifying being subordinating to the potential "chill" upon news gathering and dissemination, it seems to us on a fortiori grounds to be much more subordinating to the rights of these appellants to appear and demonstrate at the Democratic Convention. They claimed the right to demonstrate merely on their own behalf. They were neither delegates nor alternates, and had no greater nor less right to be excused from grand jury attendance than any other private citizen.

We agree with and quote verbatim rather than paraphrase, the closing paragraph of appellee's brief as to this issue:

"The appellants have chosen a peculiar context indeed in which to raise the allegation of abuse of the grand jury. If, indeed, the law enforcement process was being used to suppress dissent, it is the grand jury who with the witness' cooperation, could take remedial action. It is the constitutional right of these witnesses not to face prosecution except on the indictment of a grand jury, and it is this body which is historically vested with the responsibility of preventing specious prosecutions. The grand jury's response to the investigation was to indict six of the VVAW leaders and to name both Beverly and Chambers as co-conspirators. We believe this commentary has fairly vindicated this investigation, and rejected any allegations of bad faith now asserted."

We find no merit in the claim that the appellants should have been excused from their obligation to appear and testify before the grand jury in order for them to engage in demonstrations against the Vietnam war at the Miami Beach Democratic National Convention.

B. Allegations That Receipt Of The Subpoenas On Short Notice Denied Plaintiff Witnesses Of The Ability To Retain And Consult With Counsel.

Plaintiffs' fourth cause of action is that the receipt of the subpoenas on short notice denied the plaintiff witnesses of their ability to retain and consult with counsel.

This allegation fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted because, as plaintiffs and the Court are now well aware, every effort was made to insure that plaintiffs were fully informed of their rights and had adequate representation and consultation with counsel.

In addition to filing this action and a Motion for a temporary restraining order, the witnesses, including the individual plaintiffs, appeared with their six attorneys on July 10, 1972 and filed a Motion for stay of appearance pending retention of and consultation with counsel, which was denied upon the Government's assurance that the witnesses' order of call would, as much as possible, be made known in advance and that each witness would be allowed to consult with an attorney outside the grand jury room before answering the questions posed. (In Re Grand Jury Witnesses, No. T. Misc. 1/122, Transcript of Hearing on July 10, 1972 at 1:20 p.m. pp. 53, 64-65).

An extensive warning as to his rights was given each witness upon his initial appearance before the grand jury.

For example, plaintiff Beverly was advised as follows upon his initial appearance: Mr. Goodwin: "I will advise you of your rights and if you have any questions you may consult with any counsel that may represent you. In view of your refusal to disclose to the Grand Jury whether or not you are represented by counsel, I must advise you that it is your privilege under the Constitution of the United States to refuse to appear before the Grand Jury and testify regarding any matters which might tend to incriminate you. Do you understand that?" "A. Yes, Sir." "Q. I will advise you further that during your appearance before the Grand Jury you have a right to consult with counsel of your choosing outside the Grand Jury. Do you understand that?" "A. At this time I would like to go out and try to talk with some lawyers." "Q. Do you have counsel outside the Grand Jury Room ready to advise you about these matters?" "A. I have counsel that will advise me. It is not my counsel, my lawyer is not here." "Q. Who is your lawyer?" "A. At this time

Later, the witnesses moved for a protective order requiring the grand jury to allow attorney consultation after each question. After argument, the Court denied the Motion but established ground rules for the orderly continuation of the investigation providing for attorney consultation after each question so long as there were no undue delaying tactics. (In Re Grand Jury Witnesses, supra, Hearing on July 11, 1972 at 12 noon, pp. 17-20). As further evidence that the individual plaintiffs were not deprived of their right to retain and consult with counsel, this Court in its "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" in the civil contempt cases of plaintiffs Beverly and Horton, In Re: Robert Wayne Beverly and Bruce William Horton, T. Misc. No. 1/122, specifically found that each had been ably and competently represented by counsel. This Court found, in pertinent part, as follows:

"6. Attorneys representing the witness knew the scope of the inquiry of the witness at the time the questions were first asked the witness because the witness left the grand jury room after each question for the purpose of consultation with his counsel.

7. Counsel for the witness was well prepared to represent the witness, having filed a civil action for permanent and temporary injunctions prior to the appearance of the witness and having also filed motions for stay and other relief in these proceedings, all prior to the appearance of the witness before the grand jury. These civil proceedings and motions were ably and competently argued by all counsel. Counsel also ably presented argument and citations of applicable law in hearings at the time of the grant of immunity and hearings on contempt."

I would rather talk to the lawyers outside." "Q. All right, then, in view of your refusal to disclose to the Grand Jury who your counsel is, I will proceed to advise you of your rights under the law. I want to advise you that anything you say before the Grand Jury may be used against you in any proceedings pending before any Court of the United States or State Court. Do you understand that?" "Q. Yes, Sir." "Q. I want to also advise you that if you testify before the Grand Jury in regard to any matters you have the right to refuse to answer questions further at anytime you find that those questions may tend to incriminate you. Do you understand that?" "A. Yes, sir." In Re Grand Jury Witnesses, supra, Hearing on July 25, 1972 at 2 p.m., p. 36.

LEWIS
100-44802-2441

C. Allegations that Defendants Conduct Illegal Electronic Surveillance of the National VVAW Office.

Plaintiffs' second cause of action alleges that defendants "have and continue to conduct illegal and unconstitutional surveillance of the National VVAW office" and have attached an affidavit by Michael McCain concerning "playbacks of prior conversations", "a delayed echo", and "interference" he has experienced while making telephone calls from the New York City office. (Complaint, par. 22). Defendants have denied electronic surveillance of VVAW national and regional offices. (See Answer to Complaint, par. 23 and affidavit of Benjamin C. Flannagan, Attorney, Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, filed herewith).

Moreover, even as to grand jury witnesses, who have standing to require the Government to "affirm or deny the occurrence of the alleged" illegal interception under 18 U.S.C. 3504(a)(1), Gelbard v. United States, 408 U.S. 41 (1972), mere allegations of "unusual clicking and hollow sounds" have been held insufficient to require an evidentiary hearing where the Government has denied any such illegal surveillance. In re Horn, 458 F. 2d 468, 471-472 (3rd Cir., 1972).

D. Allegations that a Government Informant Participated in Plaintiffs' Meetings and Activities.

The complaint alleges that a government informant participated in plaintiffs' meetings and activities (Complaint, par. 17 and 21). Although plaintiffs have not specifically alleged that this event states a cause of action, defendants wish to put to rest any suggestion that this activity, even if true, would give rise to a cause of action.

100-448092-244

The Supreme Court in Hoffa v. United States, 385 U.S. 293 (1966), held that the use of secret informants is "not per se unconstitutional, 385 U.S. at 311, and does not violate the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination, 385 U.S. at 303, nor the Fourth Amendment prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures, and upheld, as reasonable under the Fourth Amendment, admission at trial of evidence obtained by an undercover informant to whom a defendant spoke without knowledge that he was in the employ of the police. 385 U.S. at 300-303. See also Lewis v. United States, 385 U.S. 206 (1966) and Lopez v. United States, 373 U.S. 427 (1963).

Moreover, the Supreme Court in United States v. White, 401 U.S. 745 (1971) held that the use of secret informants does not violate any constitutionally justifiable expectation of privacy under the Fourth Amendment even when the informant in that case used electronic equipment to transmit his conversations with defendants to other agents. 401 U.S. at 748-754 (Opinion of Mr. Justice White).

The complaint does not specifically allege that the activities of the purported informant have exceeded these legitimate surveillance activities. Plaintiffs cite no instance where the informant has provoked, solicited, or induced VVAW members to engage in unlawful activities, nor do plaintiffs allege any specific instance where their legitimate activities have been in any manner curtailed because of the alleged informant's presence. Compare Handschu v. Special Services Division, ___ F. Supp. ___ (S.D.N.Y., 71 Civ. 2203, decided October 24, 1972, Weinfeld, J.). Accordingly, plaintiffs complain only of passive observational activities and in the absence of a showing of objective harm or of threatened future harm, from excesses and abuses of an alleged informant, their complaint fails to present a justiciable controversy in this regard. Laird v. Tatum, 408 U.S. 1 (1972).

100-448092-2441

II. Defendants Are Absolutely Immune From Civil Liability
For The Activities Complained Of Under The Doctrine of Official Immunity.

Plaintiffs seek declaratory and injunctive relief to challenge the constitutionality of the grand jury proceeding convened on July 10, 1972 and the issuance of subpoenas served upon plaintiffs pursuant thereto. (Complaint, par. 14).

At all times material herein defendant Richard G. Kleindienst was Attorney General of the United States, defendant L. Patrick Gray, III, was Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and defendant William H. Stafford, Jr. was the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Florida. All activities of the defendants in the connection with the July 10, 1972 grand jury were performed in furtherance of their official duties and were within the scope of their authority, were constitutional and not in excess of their statutory authority. This Court, in its "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" in the civil contempt case of plaintiffs Beverly, Horton and two other individuals concluded, inter alia, that the Federal grand jury was lawfully sitting and lawfully conducting inquiry into violation of federal criminal statutes that the special attorneys of the United States were duly authorized by the Attorney General to appear and assist the grand jury; and that these witnesses were lawfully served with subpoenas to appear. These defendants are, therefore, absolutely immune from civil liability under the doctrine of official immunity. Barr v. Matteo, 360 U.S. 564 (1959); Howard v. Lyons, 360 U.S. 593 (1959); Spaulding v. Vilas, 161 U.S. 483 (1896).

Moreover, the Attorney General, the United States Attorneys, and his assistants are clothed with what has been called a quasi-judicial immunity when engaged in duties related to the judicial process. Gregoire v. Biddle, 177 F. 2d 579 (2nd Cir., 1949), cert. denied, 339 U.S. 949 (1950); Yaselli v. Goff, 12 F. 2d 396 (2nd Cir., 1926), affirmed, 275 U.S. 503 (1927); Cooper v. O'Connor, 99 F. 2d 135 (App. D.C. 1938), cert. denied, 305 U.S. 643 (1938); Norton v. McShane, 332 F. 2d 855 (5th Cir., 1964); Bethea v. Reid, 445 F. 2d 1163 (3rd Cir., 1971).

III. This Suit Is Barred By The Doctrine Of Sovereign Immunity Since It Is In Law And Fact A Suit Against The United States To Which The United States Has Not Consented.

Plaintiff's suit for declaratory, injunctive, and monetary relief is nominally directed at officials and agents of the Department of Justice.

The Supreme Court has held, however, that if in such a suit the "judgment would expend itself on the public treasury or domain, or interfere with the public administration," Land v. Dollar, 330 U.S. 731, 738 (1947), or if the effect of the judgment would be "to restrain the Government from acting, or to compel it to act," Larson v. Domestic & Foreign Corp., 337 U.S. 682, 704 (1949), the suit is one directed at the United States. Dugan v. Rank, 372 U.S. 609, 620 (1963); Hawaii v. Gordon, 373 U.S. 57 (1953); Malone v. Bowdin, 369 U.S. 643, 647 (1962); Reisman v. Caplin, 317 F. 2d 123 (D.C. Cir., 1963), affirmed on other grounds, 375 U.S. 440 (1964). In the instant case the monetary relief sought is such that it must operate against the sovereign rather than the individual.

Plaintiff seeks monetary relief for damages allegedly suffered as the result of the grand jury proceedings, subpoenas, and alleged surveillance activities. The United States has given no consent to be sued on such a claim under the Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. 2680(a) and (h). An action for alleged grand jury harassment falls within the statutory exception of this act for any claim arising out of "abuse of process" and cannot be maintained against the United States. Accardi v. United States, 435 F. 2d 1239, 1241 (2nd Cir., 1970).

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated, the defendants respectfully submitted that the Court should grant defendants' motion to dismiss or, in the alternative, for summary judgment, and dismiss this action.

Respectfully submitted,

SUBJECT: VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)

Re Minneapolis letter and LHM to the Bureau dated 6/9/72, captioned as above.

b2 b7D
[REDACTED] who is in a position to be aware of any activity on the part of the local VVAW within the Minneapolis Division, has advised on numerous occasions that activity on the part of the local VVAW in recent months has been practically non-existent, and that no acts of violence or subversion have been planned or perpetrated by or on behalf of the local VVAW, which would be detrimental to the internal security of the United States. Numerous attempts by national and regional VVAW officials to generate renewed activity within the local VVAW have met with failure.

Presently there are no members engaged in any organized VVAW activities.

Investigations of individuals listed in re LHM have been completed and none of these individuals were found to be qualified for ADEX.

Inasmuch as Minneapolis confidential informants familiar with basic revolutionary and other subversive violent-prone elements within the Division have advised that during the course of investigation, that the local VVAW is not infiltrated, dominated, or controlled by any of these elements, and due to the present inactivity on the part of the local VVAW, this case is being placed in a pending inactive status.
